DEE BUELL, HALFBACK, SENIOR

Brilliantly finishing three years on the first team, Dee was placed on the C. K. L. all-stars in his last two years and was also named captain of this mythical eleven in his last year. His smashing, driving, spectacular ball-carrying, his accurate passing, and his fine kicking made Buell one of the best players ever to wear a Maroon suit.

ED PATCHEN, CENTER, SENIOR

Characterized by his fiery winning spirit, "Red" played in every game and finished his second year at the pivot post. Ed's faultless passing did much to give Salina backs confidence in themselves. A mainstay on the defense and a constant fighter, Ed was, in the opinion of the Topeka High World's sport staff, the best center in the state.

MARK DODGE, FULLBACK, SENIOR

In the McPherson game Mark suffered a fractured shoulder which kept him out of many of the mid-season games. Mark was a big, battering-ram type of player and could always be counted on to get those needed yards. Playing several minutes with a fractured shoulder, as he did in the McPherson game, shows that Mark would never quit until the final gun sounded.

CECIL SCROGGINS, GUARD, SENIOR

Cecil can truthfully be called the best guard that has played in the C. K. L. and one of the best in the state. His speed, weight, and consistency make "Scrog" a fine interference runner. Defensively "Scrog" could knife thru the opposing line with unbelievable speed. In addition to being chosen C. K. L. guard, Cecil captained Salina in the final game with Abilene.

FOOTBALL

C. K. L. ALL-STARS

First Team

Boughton, End; Van Cleef, Tackle

Buell, Halfback; Kathary, Fullback

Second Team

Glazier, Tackle

BOB WILLIS, END, SENIOR

Bob gained a first team berth when a junior and played as a regular during his senior year. He made up what he lacked in speed by his weight and his ability to anticipate opponent's plays. An excellent blocker and a consistent defensive player, Bob gave fine exhibitions of end-play in the Topeka and Hutchinson games. He always showed lots of scrap and plenty of fight.

NORB BOUGHTON, END, SENIOR

Undoubtedly Norb was the best end in the C. K. L. Although he was light, he had the speed and endurance that made him a successful end. Norb was also a fine blocker, and as a defensive player, there was none better in the league. He always played consistent ball and with the fire and enthusiasm that acted as a stimulus to keep up the team's morale. Norb was chosen on the C. K. L. team.

OTHELL MEADOWS, FULLBACK, SENIOR

Although he was handicapped by lack of height, Meadows used his extraordinary speed and drive with telling results. Othell had an uncanny ability to dodge thru the smallest hole in the opponents line. He was probably the best blocker in the backfield. His repeated gains in the Ellsworth game aided much in annexing this victory for the Maroons.

LEE MARSHALL, END, SENIOR

Lee did not see as much service in the games as some of the other end candidates; but, nevertheless, he always gave his best whether in the games or on the practice field. Lee was a hard man to block out of a play.

CHESTER ROTROCK, END, SENIOR

Chet was a valuable reserve and could be counted on to fight his hardest when placed in a game. He rarely missed a night of practice and always played commendable ball. Although not an outstanding blocker, Chet was a good defensive player.

ARMWELL LUNDSTROM, GUARD, SENIOR

Although he was the lightest of the guards, Lundstrom saw more service at right guard than the other candidates for this position. What "Swede" lacked in size he made up in his willingness and his scrapping type of defense play. Swede spilled many a ball-lugger in his tracks by his ability to smash through the opponent's line.

DAN TAPPAN, GUARD, SENIOR

After playing last year on Herington's team, Dan moved to Salina and was converted from a tackle to a guard. He did not always rate a first team position, but he could be counted on to fill any gap in the line and fill it to the best of his ability.

BILL COST, GUARD, SENIOR

Bill, like Lundstrom, was light for a guard position, but his lack of weight did not keep him from seeing a lot of service. Bill was kept out of the early games because of an infected arm, but near the end of the season he developed into a fine, defensive player and running guard.

JOHN CALDWELL, TACKLE, SENIOR

"Long John" saw much action in the early season games and was one of the hardest men on the squad to block out of a play. No one tried harder or wanted to win more than John. He never complained but silently gave his best. This is John's fourth year of football, and he has made a place on the squad for himself by hard, persistent work.

EARL VAN CLEEF, TACKLE, JUNIOR

"Van", like Glazier, was a 210 pound tackle from last year's "B" team. Earl started the season at guard but was later shifted to tackle, a position he filled so well he was chosen on the C. K. L. All-Stars. Earl was the place kicker of the team. He should be the nucleus of the Maroon's line next year.

ELVIN REED, TACKLE, JUNIOR

No one on the squad had more pep and enthusiasm than "Fat." He topped the scale at over 200 pounds, and although he did not hold a regular berth, he could always be counted on to do his best. Next year Elvin will be hard to keep off the first team.

WAYNE YORDY, QUARTERBACK, JUNIOR

Assigned the signal calling post, Wayne was often called upon to run the team. His sense of leadership made him a fine field general. He was also a good passer and kicker. Misfortune overtook Yordy near the last of the season, and inflicted a knee injury, which kept him out of the Abilene game.

HARTZELL BOYDSON, HALFBACK, SOPHOMORE

"Hartz", a sophomore, was the fastest of the backfield men on the squad. Boydson made many sensational twisting runs and was a fine kicker and passer. In the Ellsworth game Hartzell was at his best, making two long runs for touchdowns. With two more years to play Hartzell should develop into one of the best ball-luggers in the C. K. L.

JACK GLAZIER, TACKLE, JUNIOR

Coming up from last year's "B" team, Jack, after several games, became a regular. He was exceptionally fast for a 200 pound player, and with this speed and weight he became one of the team's most aggressive linemen. Jack was placed on the C. K. L. Second Team and should do much to make next year's team a success.

EVERETT JUKES, FULLBACK, JUNIOR

With no previous experience Jukes developed into a very valuable reserve as the season advanced. His kicking, defensive play, and line plunging were far above the average. Everett got his first real chance to perform in the Hutchinson game and gave an outstanding performance, scoring both touchdowns.

GEORGE BUELL, HALFBACK, JUNIOR

George showed that his brother, Dee, hadn't monopolized all the football talent in the Buell family. In the Chapman game George's kicking was the deciding factor in scoring a Salina victory. With a year's growth and experience, George should be a great aid to the 1934 Salina team.

JIM CANNON, HALFBACK, SENIOR

Jim was one of the most capable reserve backs. When he was placed in a game Jim always worked hard, carrying the ball, leading interference, and doing all he could. Jim was hindered all year by a hip injury, but he always attended practice and did his utmost for the good of the team.

GEORGE KATHARY, HALFBACK, SENIOR

George, a second year man, won distinction for himself as a great backfield player. He was by far the best pass-receiver in the state and in the Abilene game spectacularly received a fifty yard pass for a touchdown. For his stellar play on the defense and his fine blocking on the offense, George was picked as a first string man on the mythical C. K. L. All-Star team.

BILL WOLFSON, MANAGER, SENIOR

Overflowing with pep and school spirit, Bill found his chance to serve the football team as manager and filled this position to the satisfaction of every one connected with the team. Bill's optimism and determination to win did much to keep up the team's morale.

JACK CLARK, ASSISTANT MANAGER, SOPHOMORE

Jack was Bill's assistant and was quick to learn the duties of football management. Jack was a valuable asset to the team and is capable of taking over the management next year.

GEORGE KATHARY, SENIOR, GUARD

Kathary was one of the most spectacular floormen of the C. K. L. Playing the first part of the season at forward and playing superb ball, he was transferred to the vacant guard post where he played equally well. George possessed the best "basket eye" of any player on the team. He was noted for his center shots as well as those from the side. By his spectacular playing throughout the season, he was chosen to pilot the team through the Regional and State tourneys. George was a two-letter man and was made captain of the C. K. L. All-Star second team.

CECIL SCROGGINS, SENIOR, GUARD

Cecil, playing his second year on the first team, was by far the best guard in the Central Kansas League. All year Scroggins did not meet his equal in the art of recovering rebounds. The assignment of covering the outstanding players of the opposing teams fell on "Scroggs" shoulders, and in addition to filling this assignment, he added many points to the score. Besides being chosen for the C. K. L. All-Stars, he received the highest honor that can come to a basketball player, that of being chosen on the All-State Honor Roll.

ED PATCHEN, SENIOR, FORWARD

Whether at a forward or guard berth, Ed always played a steady consistent type of ball. "Red" did not, in any way, let his lack of weight prevent him from playing an untiring game. His leadership gained for him the captaincy in the majority of the seasons games and his timely shooting gave him the honor of being the team's leading scorer. Although Ed was not extremely fast, he used his four years of experience to overcome this handicap and to steady the team.

ALLEN DODGE, SENIOR, CENTER

Al played alternately at center and guard and played invaluable ball at both positions. Defensively Al was superior, being assigned to guard the high-scoring centers of the Central Kansas League and holding them to few points. Through the season Al was not much of a scoring threat until the Regional and State tournaments when he added much to the offensive punch of the five. By his splendid cooperation and his ability to retrieve rebounds, he was often indirectly responsible for many of Salina's scores.

JOHN CALDWELL, SENIOR, CENTER

There has never been an athlete in Salina High School who has worked so hard and so untiring as John. Although he did not see a great deal of action, he always had the same undaunted spirit. John's play was neither sensational nor fast, but his advantageous height was an important factor in controlling the tip. "Long John" when inserted into the game always added several points to the score. This is John's first letter in basketball.

GEORGE BUELL, JUNIOR, FORWARD

George was a valuable cog in the Maroon machine through his all-around play and his uncanny ability to sink one-handed shots from any conceivable position. After the first few games he won a place on the first team and was a regular through the rest of the season. Buell was a fine dribbler and ball hustler and could send the ball through the loop with either or both hands. George should lead the offensive attack of the Salina Five next season.

OTIS BEACH, SENIOR, FORWARD

Coming to Salina from Iola, Otis developed into a valuable player, who always gave his best when placed in a game. Beach's small stature was overcome by his amazing speed, drive, and accurate passing. He rarely missed a night of practice; and in every way he could, tried to improve the team. Whether in the game or on the bench, this diminutive forward did all in his power to bring victory to the Maroon quintet.

VANCE MILLER, JUNIOR, CENTER

Returning to Salina after a year's absence in Topeka where he was a member of the sophomore team, Vance became one of the leading center aspirants. Because of his lack of experience Vance was not always in the starting lineup, but he improved so rapidly that he gained a starting position in the Regional tournament where he played outstandingly and used his height to the best advantage of the team. Vance will be eligible for competition next year and should have a very successful season.

JOHN SHAVER, JUNIOR, FORWARD

Through most of the early games of the season John did not play much, but in the Herington game he played such excellent ball that he was often placed in the games. Possessed with stamina and a fighting spirit, John was always scrapping desperately to annex a victory. His love for action and his reliable aggressive manner were characteristic of his play. With a year's experience John should be a mainstay of next year's team.

The Children's Hour

A little less play,
A little more done,
A little less say
A little more won.

A little less dare,
A little more head,
A little less air
A little more said.

English teacher: "Marvin, why are you so slow?"
Marvin Armour: "I'm doing it the Safe-way."

Ruth Sauer: "Do you like modern lyrics?"
Frances Sullivan: "Yes, I get stuck on every stanza."

Mr. Hodgson: "What is your name?"
Junior boy: "Lawrence Ford."
Mr. Hodgson: "A new and bigger model this year, I see."

Mildred Todd: "I've cut my back in two."
Miss Currie: "Didn't I tell you not to cut your back until I o-ked it?"

Clarence Wallace: "Miss Miles, do you believe in capital punishment?"

Miss Miles: "Most assuredly I do, ever since I have had charge of the third hour study hall."

Ernest MacDonald: "Where can I find out who wrote Gray's 'Elegy'?"

Lee Dewhirst: "I think we ought to take English literature in the senior year."

Tom Hayes: "You'll probably get your wish."

Celia Mae—we can not forget,
Who is hunting collaterals yet—
When in such a stew,
What does she do
But take time to chin Otis, I bet.

An all around lad is Van Cleef
With talent and also some beef.
He can blow a clar(i)net
And can scramble a set
Of questions—but I must be brief.

Miss Gemmill: "What did Wordsworth write on that theme?"

Don Houghton: "Collaterals."

Miss Moore: "Does the curtain rise or raise?"

Roy Heath: "It depends on who's doing the talking."

Question: "What is a madrigal?"

Cletus R.: "A mad girl, I suppose."

Mr. Lebow, announcing a number: "Who is Sylvia?"

Boner Young: "Ask Alex; he knows all the girls."

Jack G. is the boy with bigga feet
In class, on the grid he is hard to beat.
He kicka dey ball;
He loaf in dey hall.
Hoping some day Mees Odetta to meet.

Found in room 4 in Bill Shaver's handwriting:

"Dearest,

I have not seen you since 1:20 and now it is 1:35—(Those interested call at the office for complete story.)

Elmer Hoskins: "When I get my book report in and my collaterals read and my notebook up to date and my memory verses learned and tests made up, I'll be in line for a credit."

Walter Carney: "Yes, from St. Peter."

Miss Long: "What did I say yesterday?"

Kenneth Bowen: "Do I have to remember that too?"

Bill Tucker likes June because school is out then and so is June.

Lawrence Ford: "Lycidas's body went down to the bed of the sea, but his soul was off with the sea nymphs."

Margaret Shelley: "Did Shakespeare write all the Bible?"

Traffic office, pulling Lorraine Barrett out from under a car—"You certainly are brave."
Lorraine: "Yes, I'm full of grit."

Mr. Barber: "I imagine you'll be a big boy before I see you again."
Merrill Gutsch: "I hope so."

Virginia Lee Ladd: "Tell me some news."
Stuart Smith: "I'll be here next year."
Virginia Lee: "That isn't news. Everybody knows that."

St. Peter, through the peep-hole: "Who is there?"
Miss Moore: "It is I."
St. Peter, under his breath—"One of those C. K. L. school teachers!" (Aloud) No admittance."

Eddie Maxwell: "Why are you so hard boiled?"
Leslie Evans: "She keeps me in hot water all the time."

Edna Mae Hederstedt: "How can I tell a song?"
Sheldon Burr: "What do you want to tell it?"

Miss Smith: "Were you shocked at your grade?"

Jim Cannon: "No, just another current event."

"Little owlet in the glen,
I'm ashamed of you;
You are ungrammatical
In speaking as you do.
You should say, 'To whom? To whom?'
not, 'To who? To who?'"

Mr. Sites: "First I'll take some sulphuric acid and then I'll take some chloroform, and—"
Walter Waring: "That's a good idea."

From Jack Bockius's notebook—Poe is the author of a number of terror tails.

Miss McCall: "Will those who are absent please speak louder?"

Mr. Hodgson: "I hold in my hand a document of great value which—"

Bill Shaver: "Gosh! I wonder if she lost my letter."

I cannot sing of autumn nights

Nor lovers neath the moon;

I cannot sing of perfumed winds

Leon McIntire: "What did David say as he walked into the lion's den?"

Armond Gloyd: "The lion's busy."

---

Tom Hayes: "Did you get your hair cut?"

Norbert Boughton: "No, I just washed it and it shrank."

Helen Hinkson (at G. R. Tea): "These cakes are hard as stone."

Loretta Benny: "Didn't you hear her say take your pick as she passed them?"

---

Maryellen Fink: "It took eight sittings."

Eunice Heel: "Were you having your portrait painted?"

Maryellen Fink: "No, I'm learning to skate."

Mary Louise Sampson: "What do you say to a tramp in the park?"

Virginia Lee Ladd: "Oh, I never speak to the horrid things."

Shaver had a little lamb
Given by a friend to keep.
It followed him around until
It died from loss of sleep.

---

Marjory Mapes thinks nowadays a girl must powder her nose and neck to be popular.

---

Mr. Anderson: "Give me liberty or give me death. Who said that?"

Bob Willis: "It must've been Herbert Coe; I saw him talking."

Miss Smith: "Cecil, is Holy Week observed in any country besides Spain?"

Cecil: "I don't know. I haven't been around much."

Lavon Loyd: "Don't you know you should always give half the road to a woman driver?"

Delbert Miller: "I always do when I find out which half she wants."

Bill Doud (at Almond counter): "Who attends to the nuts?"

Ruth Calhoun: "Be patient, I'll wait on you in a minute."

Melba Knoettgen: "How did you get the habit of wearing that mustache?"

Wesley Dalrymple: "It just grew on me."

Mr. Anderson (at Cook's Help Yourself: "How much did you say those apples are?"

Ronald Rose: "Fifteen cents a peck."

Mr. Anderson: "What do you think I am? A bird?"

---

Miss Smith: "What products are found in Boston?"

Raymond Halstead: "Boots and shoes."

Miss Smith: "Correct. And Chicago?"

Raymond Halstead: "Shoots and booze."

Luman Miller: "Believe it or not, officer, I'm looking for a parking place."

Policeman (Wendell Wood): "Hunting for a parking place when you haven't got a car? You must be crazy!"

Luman Miller: "But I have a car. It's in the parking place I'm looking for."

HIGH SCHOOL PRINT

The 1934 Trail was printed in the high school shop under the direction of W. H. Woodhouse by the boys enrolled in printing. The high standard of workmanship throughout the book is due to the patience and painstaking care of these students' printers and their supervisor.

The names of these boys follow:

CHARLES DeLANEY
NORBERT BOUGHTON
ED PATCHEN
EDWARD LOADER
HERBERT COE
WILLIAM DOUD
LEO PARTCH
KENNETH YOCKERS
WINFRED WALMERS
WAYNE HISEY

Melvin
I will always remember the boy in our shop
I hope I will see you
if I don't see you next year. Good luck on the tests.
Ted Steadman

Melvin
I can always remember you as you
were in my science class.
Alma Cowley.

Paul Hamilton

Melvin:
The guy who's late for school because he goes swimming.
good luck.
Dave Loney

Melvin:
Violet's and the other girls are going to the beach for the summer.

Dear Melvin:
Remember the night out to district
29. I he night we ate so much.
Your friend
Eileen Kelly '35"
